

Christa Burke, MSW, LCSW, ACHP-SW has a Master's degree in Social Welfare from UCLA and is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker. She obtained Advanced Certification in Hospice and Palliative Care Social Work (ACHP-SW) in 2015. She has a broad background in social work but began medical social work as a Pediatric Oncology Social Worker at Dartmouth Hitchcock Medical Center in 2005. She transitioned to adult palliative care in 2015. Christa is currently a Palliative Care Social Worker with the Washington University Division of Palliative Medicine at Barnes-Jewish Hospital in St Louis, MO. Christa serves as the Social Work Consultant for the Missouri Hospice and Palliative Care Association (MHCPA) and is a member of NASW, SWHPN (Social Work Hospice and Palliative Care Network) and the St Louis Social Work Leaders in Healthcare organization. Through MHCPA, Christa serves as a Hospice educator for in Missouri Correctional Facilities teaching offenders to serve as hospice volunteers to other offenders in need. Christa is passionate about helping patients and their families cope with serious illness and encouraging meaningful discussions about the experiences and values that give meaning to a person's life. She currently works on a dynamic interdisciplinary team in both an inpatient and outpatient setting focusing on the needs of the whole person. She enjoys teaching social work students, medical students, residents and fellows in addition to her direct patient care. She has recently published an article about her Palliative Care MSW Practicum Curriculum designed to educate future social work leaders in Palliative Care.